Daniel-I definitely agree. This LLC was specifically formed to purchase assets from Nuverra to resell. It should take all of our joint efforts!! Black Duck would also be an excellent vehicle for any other future prospects that the three of us decide to pursue as a group. I just feel it is better to go in with a plan 😊

Thanks,
Larry

Duties for me would consist of introducing opportunities that I feel or choose to present to KrisJenn and if KrisJenn chooses to engage.... then we run it through Black Duck. I will also bring buyers but feel we should and will all use whatever resources that are available to us individually or collectively therefore I think we should all take on that duty. As far as the Nuverra deal I feel I should be able to provide that buyer for the team. Let me know if that is how yall see it as well.

Thanks,
Daniel Moore

Larry and Daniel,

The below email is what I sent to Mike Rodgers yesterday on the formation of our new entity. I have not gotten confirmation that the name is available just yet, but he emailed this morning and was having his secretary do the search and reserve one of them if one is. Please reply "approved" if all is satisfactory.
